Choral Society Postpones Concert

The Albuquerque Choral society has postponed its concert until January 23. Rehearsals every Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock are progressing splendidly.

There will be a chorus of 100 voices for the concert, and a particularly attractive program is being prepared.

Mr. Charles Andrews' great ability as a director is being shown in his excellent handling of this large chorus and the work at the piano of Mr. Stanley Seider adds greatly to the effectiveness of the numbers. The program follows:

"Summertime Now the God of Thunder"—The Challenge of Thor (From Longfellow's "The Saga of King Hrolf")—Edgar Allan Poe—"The Hallelujah Chorus"—Handel (From "The Messiah")—"The Woman of Samaria" (a Sacred Cantata)—W. Sterndale Bennett (With Incidental Solo).

Santa Fe Society Folk Illustrate Dances.

Dances, ancient and modern, from the Grecian to the tango and from the minuet to the hesitation were illustrated by prominent Santa Fe society people at the annual reception given by the Santa Fe Woman's club this week. Everybody was there and a feature was the reading again by request by Mrs. W. C. McDonald, wife of the governor, of her very interesting paper on "Dances, Ancient and Modern." Mrs. McDonald believes that dancing is in response to a primitive instinct and her paper on the subject has aroused wide interest. The Santa Fe New Mexican's society editor gives the following account of the "performance" this week:

The clubwomen and their guests—many of whom had expressed a desire to hear Mrs. McDonald's paper—gathered in assembly hall of the Old Palace. Following the paper which was listened to with rapt attention, the Minuet was danced by Assistant General Herring and Miss Laughlin, J. J. Kinney and Mrs. Carl Green, Miss Dora Fischer sang "Cupid's Garden," as the minuet was danced. The dance and song proved a great success judging by the spontaneous applause.

Mrs. P. M. A. Llanau then danced the Spanish dance "Cachucha" and danced it with much grace.

As the applause died away the Argentine Tango called in Gay Pareo "Le Tango Argentino" made its appearance.

pearance, Jesse Nussbaum and Mrs. Carl Bishop, J. J. Kinney and Miss Lela Gallaher taking the graceful steps as Mrs. George H. Van Stone accompanied on the piano. It was a pretty dance and those who have criticized the tango have criticized some other steps than the steps seen last night. After all there are some two hundred if one may believe the metropolitan papers.

The little white slippers of the ladies dancing and the larger, black shoes pursuing them through an intricate series of steps recalled the comparison of a magazine writer to "two black cats following two white mice."

The audience applauded loud and long at the conclusion of the tango. A graceful waltz—the "hesitation"—was then danced by Jesse Nussbaum and Mrs. Carl Bishop. This waltz has become quite popular since imported from Vienna and many think it admirably suited to a high altitude because it gives one a rest after the rather strenuous one step or the intricate tango.

Mr. Nussbaum and Mrs. Gillett had the honor of demonstrating the "Santa Fe dance" designed by Mrs. Tied and dedicated to the Santa Fe Women's club. It is said to have some steps of the tango and of the French one step, but one must dance it to analyze it. This dance also was a hit of the evening.

Following the dance, the reception was held, the receiving line extending across one side of the room for in it were Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Peden, Mrs. McElroy, Mrs. Green, Miss Conrad and all of the dancers who made the evening such a success.

There was but one "antoward event" to mar the festivities—the Indian who was to have put on a dance of the "ancient peoples" had misunderstood the invitation and came to the reception without his dancing togs. He thought he was simply a guest. So the Indian dance had to be omitted from the series.

The music furnished for the tango was by the Victrola which Mrs. A. B. Tenenbach brought to the hall for the occasion.

Refreshments were served at a seasonable hour, Mrs. E. C. Abbott and Mrs. L. B. Hanna pouring coffee.

News from the Varsity.

The Sigma Tau Fraternity is planning to give an entertainment in the near future. It will be called Fraternity Follies and is to be an adaptation of one of Bernard Shaw's plays. You may look for something decidedly "rich."

The title of the particular play and the names of those in the cast will not be announced until the night of the performance, which is being staged entirely by members of the fraternity, including some celebrated local "theatres." This promises to be a unique and entirely enjoyable entertainment—some say a scream.

Miss Mabel Holland of Roswell is a new student at the Varsity.

W. H. Brashear spoke in Assembly Thursday morning about the Student Volunteer Convention which met in Kansas City during the holidays and to which he was a delegate from the University of New Mexico. There were seven hundred and fifty colleges represented and it was a large and very enthusiastic meeting. The object of the association is to prepare students for mission and educational work in foreign countries.

Father Mandalar will speak in Assembly Tuesday morning. Assembly begins promptly at ten o'clock and visitors from the city are always welcome.

Two Weddings of Popular People Engage Society Interest During Past Week

Nuptials of Oscar Bluecher and Carol Shipley Unusually Happy Event; Wedding in Los Angeles of Jack Reynolds and Mabel Van Eaton Proves Surprise to Many Albuquerque Friends.

Hymen had his things in Albuquerque society circles during the past week. I don't know exactly who Hymen is but I know that he is always mixed up in these affairs. Two weddings—one here and one in Los Angeles—took place in which there was more than the usual amount of romantic interest among local people—all the participants being rather well known and popular here.

on the limited for San Francisco, Los Angeles, and the Grand Canyon to be gone about a month.

The bride was quite charming in a smart navy blue tailored suit with chiffon waist to match and a becoming black hat trimmed with a single American Beauty rose. She carried a huge bunch of lovely American beauties.

Miss Bluecher wore a tailored gown and carried red and white sweet peas. The rooms were artistically decorated with palms and ferns brightened with red and white sweet peas and festooned with streamers of white ribbon, the effect being entirely artistic.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluecher will be at home after March the first in a particularly attractive four-room bungalow at 229 North Fourteenth. They have furnished it in fumed oak and Chippendale walnut and it is one of the most charming homes in the city.

RAYMONDS-VAN EATON

I haven't heard many particulars of the Raymonds-Van Eaton wedding which occurred in the Angel City, Thursday afternoon. They were very quiet about it, the bride taking an innocent little trip to "El Paso" and going directly on to the coast, where she met Mr. Reynolds and the knot was tied.

Mr. Reynolds is the son of Joshua R. Reynolds and brother of Judge Herbert Reynolds and the bride a very popular young business woman, daughter of well-known people of El Paso and a former student of the University here.

CUPID INVADERS VARSITY

Three members of the University faculty took advantage of the holiday vacation to become beneficiaries, and two more marriages are rumored for the near future.

December the thirty-first, Dr. R. M. Barton, professor of mathematics, and Mrs. D. P. Heath, of Madison, Wisconsin, were married at the home of the bride's sister in Duluth.

They arrived here last Sunday evening and are residing at 518 South Fifth street and will be at home to their friends after the first of February.

Professor Snyder has returned with his bride from Ripon, Wis.

Professor S. Griswold Morley and his bride have returned from a short honeymoon and have an attractive suite of rooms in the Occidental building.

The three brides are charming and are being welcomed with delight by the University people.

Prof. Suydam Weds Wisconsin Girl.

Prof. Vernon A. Suydam of the University has returned with his bride, formerly Miss Floyd Davis, of Ripon, Wis., and is receiving the congratulations of friends here. The following interesting details of the wedding are from the Commonwealth, at Ripon, Wis.:

Elaborate Program Planned for Next Thursday Evening Under Direction of Mrs. Bradford; Week's Gossip of the Clubs and Organizations

The program at the Woman's club next week is under the direction of the dramatic art department, and will be given Thursday evening instead of Friday afternoon. It is complimentary to all members. Those who are not members may attend but a small admission fee will be charged.

Mrs. E. L. Bradford is the chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Harry Strong.

The program which is being prepared is quite different from any which has been given this year and promises to be very interesting.

The first part of it is the theme from "The Bohemian Girl." The stage setting will be the gypsy camp scene and there will be solos and duets by Eileen, Thaddeus, the Gypsy scene of a delightful home wedding. On Wednesday, December 31, the last day of 1913, at 12 o'clock noon, Miss Floy Davis and Mr. Vernon A. Suydam were joined in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Eileen Davis.

At the appointed hour, Miss Wilkes at the piano, the first notes of "Mendelssohn's Wedding March," announced the coming of the bride and groom. They were accompanied—the groom by the officiating minister, prof. J. F. Tamm; the bride, by her brother, Mr. H. Emory Davis, of Albuquerque, N. M.

Closely surrounded by a small circle of intimate family friends, the bride and groom plighted to each other their truth and were made husband and wife. The congratulations of friends followed, after which the wedding dinner was served.

Among the guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. William Macfarlane of Tomahawk, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Struble of Green Bay, Mrs. L. A. Edwards of Oshkosh, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Roberts of Randolph, Miss Cora Manaton of Sheboygan, Miss Sara Jones of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Taylor of Oak Park, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Danies Davis of Pickett, Mr. Edward Pates of Chicago, and Mr. H. Emory Davis, the bride's brother, of Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. Suydam was for six years superintendent of the Ripon schools. For the past three years he has been instructor at Princeton university, Princeton, N. J., but has recently been appointed professor and head of the department of physics and engineering in the State University of New Mexico at Albuquerque.

Miss Davis has made Ripon her home for many years. She was graduated from Ripon college with the class of 1894 and for several years was assistant in the Latin department of her alma mater.

Mr. and Mrs. Suydam leave at once for Albuquerque, N. M., their future home.
